

Newsletter

10 August 2016

Splitting the office...

For reasons of security and privacy, we've moved our "bursar office" down-stairs, into the house part of the school. If you need to make payments personally, please use this office. For any other issues, our upstairs office door is open.

Unique spring day 2016...

Did you know that we're in for a partial solar eclipse on Thursday the 1st of September at 11h02? We've purchased special "eclipse glasses" that will allow our pupils to view the sun and eclipse safely without damaging their eyes. If you would like your child to have a pair, you can purchase them in the bursar's office for R10.

A book-worm's dream come true...

Diskonto will be visiting tomorrow. This is a travelling book shop, loaded with kiddie books and great prices. Pop in to have a look, or allow your kiddies to use their pocket money for something really worthwhile in the next two days.

Photos

Our photo orders are being processed, so packages should arrive within a week or two. Unfortunately, somebody paid R70 for photo's into the school's bank account and used "photos" as a reference and then emailed proof of payment from a "mokgebe" which is not listed on our school system. If this is you, please confirm your child's name.

2017, 3 year old playgroup...

As you may be aware, we started a 3 year-old playgroup for our staff's children this year. Owing to its success, we would like to continue this group next year. Preferably for siblings of pupils in our school. If you would like to enrol your 3 year-old (turning 4 next year) in this exclusive playgroup - no bigger than 8, but preferably 6 pupils - please come and enrol as soon as possible in the office.

Drive-in theatre...

Mickey Mouse pupils don't forget that we're going to the "drive in" on Friday. Bring your car (an old box with some paper tyres on the sides is perfect), and we'll supply the Friday flick for free ☺!

Prayerfully and playfully
The teachers